TO PLAY FOR THE STEELERS

BY JIM WEXELL
STEELERS.COM

Cam Heyward was born to play for the Steelers. At least that's what his mother wanted. She was a Pittsburgh girl who married the late, great Craig "Ironhead" Heyward of Pitt fame. She raised Cam in Atlanta, but always wanted to go back to Pittsburgh.

Cam made that possible when the Steelers drafted him out of Ohio State in the first round of the 2011 NFL Draft.

The Son of Ironhead was greeted with much acclaim by the media and fans of the defending AFC champions, but the coaching staff sent Heyward to the back of the line behind Aaron Smith, Casey Hampton, Brett Keisel, and even 2009 first-round pick Ziggy Hood.

Heyward didn't start a game in his first two seasons, and in his first six seasons accumulated only 25 sacks. He wasn't a bust by any stretch, but the style the Steelers played asked Heyward and the defensive ends to "two-gap," or hold offensive linemen up in order for linebackers to make plays.

That changed in 2017 when the Steelers moved to a more attacking style with their defensive linemen, and Heyward responded with 12 sacks. Then the awards began pouring in.

Over the last eight seasons, Heyward has been to all seven of his Pro Bowls, been named first-team All-Pro four times, and second-team All-Pro once.

Going into last Sunday night's game against the Chargers, Heyward had 90 career sacks, second in team history to T.J. Watt's 113.

Heyward enters today's game against the Bengals having played in 220 career games, tied with Mike Webster for second-most in team history behind Ben Roethlisberger (249).

"I've been surrounded by some of the best coaches, players, and teammates you could ask for."

No, the Son of Ironhead hasn't done too badly for himself. When asked to formulate career recollections, though, the entirety of his 15 years in Pittsburgh seemed to overwhelm him.

"In the midst of everything," Heyward said, "I kind of just want to dedicate everything I have to the time I have left, whether it's one year, two years, or three years, I want to make sure I put everything I can into this."

"Just enjoying the ride. Not thinking about what the ride will be. I just try to stay in the moment."

Heyward agreed to play along with an old journalism staple of sticking with the who, what, where, when, and why. Here's how he responded:

WHO

Who pops into your mind as you look back at your career?

"Whether it's John Mitchell, to Karl Dunbar, to Brett Keisel, to Aaron Smith, to Casey Hampton, to Stephon Tuitt, to Javon Hargrave, I've been surrounded by some of the best coaches, players, and teammates you could ask for. And that's just in my room."

"I've always been a guy who learns from others. I try to add that to my game. And I don't want to let others down. I've always tried to wear every part of this team, or every part of every team I've been a part of, and understand the responsibility falls with me."

WHAT

What have you learned from somebody, anybody that's helped you grow?

"The first thing I've ever learned stemmed from my mom years ago. It's always been our mantra: Patience is a virtue. And I learned a lot of patience when I got to this league. John Mitchell, when I first got drafted, said to me, 'I've got my starters. You're going to have to wait and get on special teams.' That kind of was humbling. But I needed it, and I think it made me a better player because of that.

"Learning from Brett Keisel and Casey about how to play with technique; it doesn't matter if you just make the play, but being in the right gap, being accountable, is the true challenge.

"And learning from Coach Dunbar years later, because I had such a good foundation of being accountable and being in my gap, he kind of flipped it on its head and said, 'It's not just enough to be in your gap anymore. You know the scheme and you know what's going on around you, now you can take those risks a little bit more, now you can go out there and be a little bit freer.'

"When I've been around a lot of the younger guys in my crew, whether it was Javon Hargrave or Stephon Tuitt, there was just a level of competition I just appreciated. We were all so hungry and we all just wanted to be a part of a good defense.

"It's been really fun to lead with T.J. Watt over this time. We kind of push each other. We talk openly about game plans, about what we want to do. We talk about our families, talk about having kids. We've kind of grown up together. So that's what's really stood out to me."

WHERE

Where is your favorite spot?

"My home. It's been my safe place. It's been somewhere that in the quiet moments where I've focused the most, and I've cried the most because I wanted to be out there so bad. Sometimes I'd be in my car going to games and knowing you're not going to play kind of broke my heart, because I wanted to be a part of this for so long.

"Over my 15 years, I don't forget those moments. I still take the same route in. I had a lot of people at my house who really just settled me down and kept my faith going. My wife, my kids, my mom always coming up, my brothers; it's a spot where I can truly just be myself."

WHEN

Which time will you remember most fondly?

"There are so many moments. It's hard to say when. (Pause) I don't know. When is inconclusive because I'm going through When. I'm still trying to make those moments, so it's hard to say there's one moment that sticks out right now. I guess that goes with what I said about being in the present moment."

WHY

Do you feel like you've fulfilled your purpose? And why?

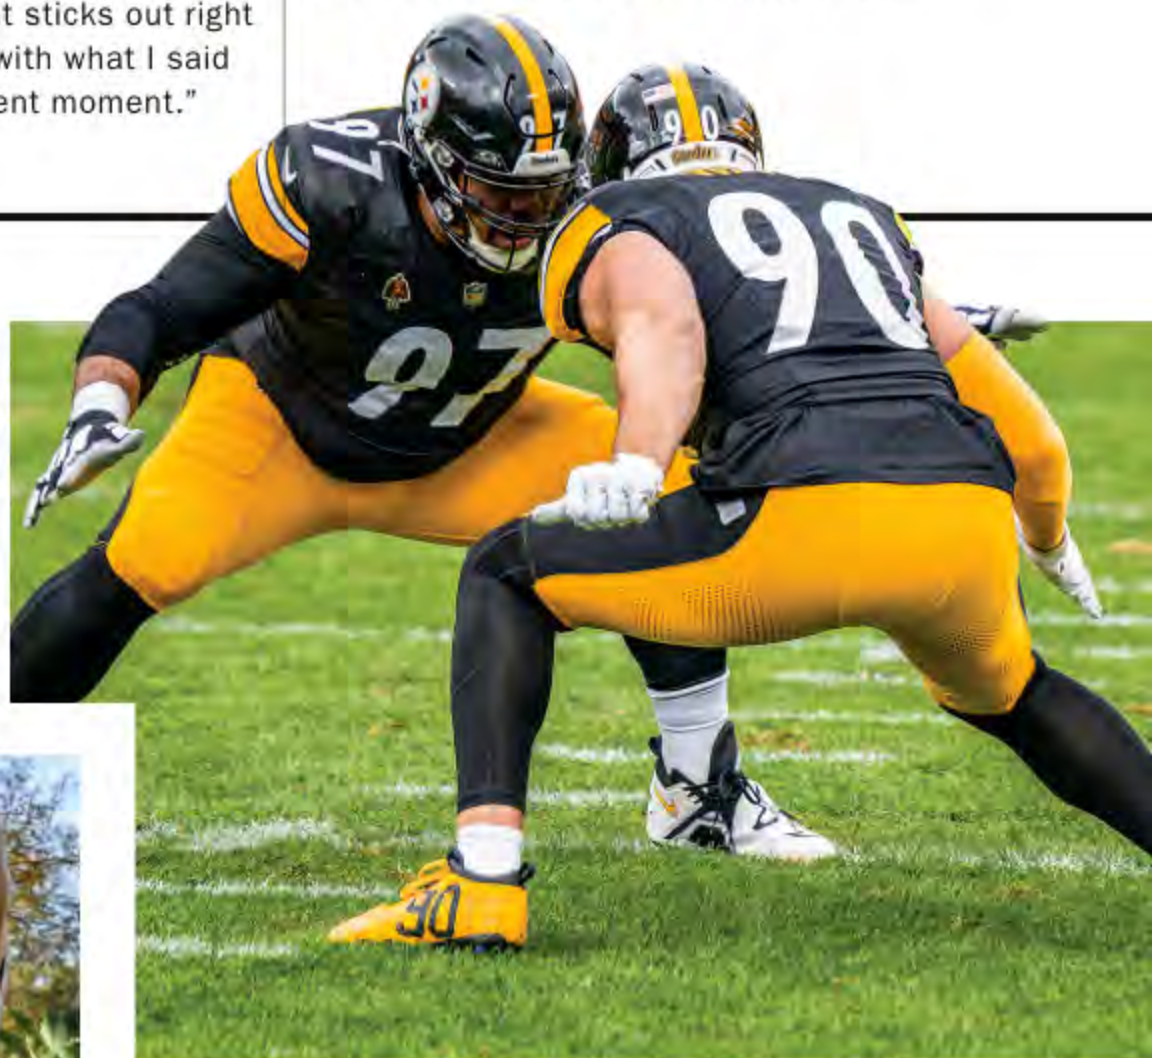

"I think God's purpose was to bring me back to Pittsburgh. It was marrying my wife, who I met my first year, my first day in the dorms at Ohio State. When I first got drafted here, I always thought that God and my dad were working together to bring me back home.

"When I first got drafted here, I always thought that God and my dad were working together to bring me back home."

"But have I fulfilled my purpose? I hope not. I'm never content with that. I feel like I'm not satisfied. I feel there's still better ball to be played. There are still questions for me to be answered. I feel like I have a lot more in the tank to really just keep answering these questions."

"WE KIND OF PUSH EACH OTHER"

- CAMERON HEYWARD ON T.J. WATT

OTHER VOICES

Spencer Anderson

"During practice, we obviously send our protection calls towards T.J., just because it's T.J., so it leaves me one-on-one with Cam, which is smart of our defense. You put them on separate sides, so you help one side and obviously there's no help on the other. So, whenever we're in practice and you're kind of sending protection that way, I'm like, 'All right, well, let me tighten my wrist rockets and buckle my stuff up, because here comes Cam.' Obviously it's good to go against guys like that in practice, because it makes the game so much easier."

"He's definitely a hard worker. I train with him in the offseason out here. I stay out here year-round, so I train with him and a couple other guys, and he's just a hard worker. Now, he's always joking around, but when it's time to be serious he's real serious. Obviously, he's a captain for a reason, and he's been doing it for a while."

Connor Heyward

"It's very humbling that we're both at this level, but also extremely cool being able to see the side of him that no one else in our family really gets to see. They don't get to be here in the locker room. They don't get to see how he is when we win, or how he is when we lose. After a game he might be mad and they might not really know why, but I might know why he's mad and the reason. So I feel like being here and being able to get that insight has been so cool."

"Also, obviously, everybody would love to play with their brother, so it's a blessing as well. He's somebody that I can look up to and somebody that everybody else can look up to as well."

'Where's everybody at?' I was the only one there. So then he texted me a couple nights ago. It said there was something on Monday night, and I said, 'Is this going to be like the last one?' No response from the group chat."

"He's somebody that I can look up to and somebody that everybody else can look up to as well."

-CONNOR HEYWARD

Keeanu Benton

"Playing with him is one thing, but what he teaches you is something extremely valuable. Yeah, he's a good guy and a great leader, a guy who's going to speak up and teach you what he believes in. He taught me how to take care of my body when I first got here, and just continue to do those things and teach me how to do this job as a pro, for sure."

Aaron Rodgers

"Cam invited me to a movie night a while back and said it was a big team function. I love team bonding, chemistry stuff. So I show up. I see him and his son, Cal, who we got to know during training camp. I'm like, 'Oh, cool.' I'm looking around, I go,

"But I really appreciate his leadership. You know, he's a guy who knows how to use his voice at the right times, and his play has been stellar. He's made some plays where he's hustling the back side of balls being out in the flat that are really impressive. He's pushed the pocket in the middle. He's got his hands on a lot of footballs that have been key, kind of game-changing plays for us. But he's a steady guy. I like to razz him from time to time, because I'm a little more maybe chipper in the mornings than he is, but I'm really fortunate to play with Cam Heyward."

HEAD COACH

MIKE TOMLIN

Mike Tomlin was named the 16th head coach in Pittsburgh Steelers history on January 22, 2007. Hired at the age of 34, Tomlin became only the third head coach hired by the Steelers since 1969.

In his 18 seasons as head coach for the Pittsburgh Steelers, Tomlin has accomplished many things that have never been done in the team's storied history. A franchise known for stability at the head coaching position, Tomlin ranks among the League's longest-tenured active head coaches entering the 2025 season.

Tomlin became the youngest head coach in NFL history to both coach in and win a Super Bowl when he led the Steelers to a 27-23 victory over the Arizona Cardinals in Super Bowl XLIII (36 years, 323 days), a record that held until it was eclipsed by Sean McVay in Super Bowl LVI (36 years, 20 days). By winning the Super Bowl in only his second season as a head coach, he also became the fastest to win a Super Bowl title in Steelers history.

During his head coaching tenure in Pittsburgh, Tomlin has led the Steelers to seven AFC North titles, most recently in 2020, and has guided the Steelers to the playoffs 12 times, including two trips to the Super Bowl (XLIII and XLV). Tomlin has won at least five home games in 17 of his first 18 years, including six in 2021. In his 18 seasons, he has never had a losing record.

Tomlin is the only head coach in League history to begin a head coaching tenure with at least 18 consecutive non-losing seasons. He has led the Steelers to a .500-or-better record in each of his 18 seasons as head coach. That is the third-longest streak of .500-or-better seasons by a head coach in NFL history.

Tomlin has sent a total of 80 selections to the NFL's annual Pro Bowl, including the four players who received Pro Bowl honors for the 2024 season. Additionally, Tomlin was appointed by Commissioner Roger Goodell to the NFL's Competition Committee in March 2013.

Tomlin is just the eighth coach in NFL history to win a Super Bowl within his first two seasons as head coach. He is the only head coach in Steelers history to lead the team to two Super Bowls in his first four seasons at the helm, including an appearance against the Green Bay Packers in Super Bowl XLV. He is one of only two Steelers head coaches to win three division titles in his first four seasons.

Tomlin has led Pittsburgh to a 188-111-2 record in the regular season since becoming the team's head coach in 2007—the second-best record in the NFL during that time span, behind only Andy Reid. His 188-111-2 regular-season record (.628) is the best start in franchise history.

Tomlin's 188 regular-season victories are the second-most among active NFL head coaches and tied for the 11th-most in League history. Tomlin's .628 regular-season win percentage is the ninth-highest in NFL history (minimum 150 games).

Tomlin's 188 regular-season wins are tied for the second-most in a coach's first 18 career seasons. His .628 regular-season win percentage is the fifth-best by a head coach in his first 18 career seasons.

Tomlin, who ranks eight in NFL history with a regular-season record of 78 games over .500, Bill Belichick, Andy Reid and Marty Schottenheimer are the only coaches in NFL history with career records of 70 or more games over .500 not in the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

Tomlin is one of two active NFL head coaches with over 180 victories and one of four active NFL head coaches to defeat at least 31 current NFL franchises.

With a victory at Washington in Week 10 of 2024, Tomlin became the ninth head coach in NFL history to reach 180 career wins. He registered 180 wins in 284 games coached, which was the fifth-fewest games coached in League history to reach the milestone.

Tomlin led the Steelers to another 10-win season in 2024, the 11th time Pittsburgh has reached double-digit wins during his tenure. The Steelers played seven regular-season games vs. 2024 playoff teams. Pittsburgh's seven regular-season games played vs. 2024 playoff foes was tied for the fourth-most in the NFL. The Steelers' five victories vs. opponents that finished 2024 with a winning record were the fifth-most in the NFL.

Tomlin led the Steelers to another 10-win season in 2023, the 10th time Pittsburgh has reached double-digit wins during his tenure. The Steelers played eight regular-season games vs. 2023 playoff teams, including both four at home and four on the road. Pittsburgh's eight regular-season games played vs. 2023 playoff foes was tied for the eighth-most in the NFL. Five teams in the League that qualified for the playoffs played at least eight games vs. 2023 playoff teams and only Baltimore played more such games and reached the postseason. The Steelers' five regular-season wins vs. 2023 playoff foes was tied for the third-most in the NFL this season.

Tomlin's young 2022 team improved dramatically over the course of the season, culminating in Tomlin's 16th-straight season of .500 or above with a record of 9-8. The Steelers started the season at 2-6 before their Week 9 bye, and went 7-2 the rest of the way. Pittsburgh's offense boasted the best third-down conversion rate and the third-most rushing yards in the League from Weeks 10 through 18 after starting the season ranked 24th in both categories. Defensively, Pittsburgh improved from ranking 29th in opponent yards per game to the stingiest defense in the League over the second half of the season, allowing an NFL-best 272.9 yards per game following their bye week. The Steelers defense also improved in getting off the field over the last nine weeks, allowing the third-least third-down conversions (36) and tying for the second-most interceptions (12). The team's 20 interceptions on the season tied for the most in the League.

VICTORIES

Tomlin is one of two active NFL head coaches with over 180 victories.

Tomlin's .628 regular-season win percentage is the ninth-highest in NFL history (minimum 150 games)

In 2021, Tomlin led the Steelers to a 9-7-1 record and captured a playoff berth for the 10th time in his Steelers career. For the fifth-straight season, the Steelers led the NFL in sacks (55). The Pittsburgh defense sat atop the League in red zone defense allowing touchdowns on just 50.14% of red zone trips. Offensively, Pat Freiermuth and Najee Harris set several rookie franchise records and were two of five rookies starting in Week 1 of the season.

In 2020, Tomlin became one of just two head coaches in NFL history to begin a head coaching tenure with at least 14 consecutive non-losing seasons – joining Marty Schottenheimer (14, 1984-97). The Steelers began the season with an 11-0 win-streak, which culminated in a 12-4 regular-season record and Tomlin's ninth AFC North title. The 11-game winning streak (9/14/20-12/2/20) tied the longest regular season winning streak in franchise history. Over the past six seasons (2013-20), Tomlin has led the team to a 26-13 record in the month of December/January.

The Steelers offense dramatically improved in 2020, scoring at least 24 points in 11 regular season games after hitting the mark just five times in 2019. However, it was Pittsburgh's defense that once again showed its teeth, either topping or sharing the league lead in 20 different defensive categories including tackles for loss (103), sacks (56.0), interceptions (18), passes defended (84), quarterback pressures (198), defensive completion percentage (56.7%) and opposing QB rating (76.7). The unit also finished second in takeaways (27) and third in scoring defense (19.5).

Finishing the regular season as the AFC's No. 3 seed, Pittsburgh produced five Pro Bowlers—offensive linemen Maurkice Pouncey and David DeCastro and defenders Minkah Fitzpatrick, Cameron Heyward and T.J. Watt—marking the fourth consecutive season in which at least five Steelers were named to the Pro Bowl.

Pittsburgh was beset with injuries in 2019. The Steelers lost quarterback Ben Roethlisberger with a season-ending elbow injury in Week 2. Running back James Conner missed six games, wide receiver JuJu Smith-Schuster missed four games, and was sidelined for the majority of two others, and defensive end Stephon Tuitt missed the final 10 games of the season. Even backups – quarterback Mason Rudolph and running back Jaylen Samuels missed multiple games. Starting center Maurkice Pouncey missed three games. Starting left guard Ramon Foster and starting tight end Vance McDonald were both sidelined two games for concussions. Undrafted rookie free-agent Devlin Hodges was forced to play in eight games (six starts), and, despite an 0-3 start, Tomlin still led Pittsburgh to a record of 8-8.

Despite injuries, Pittsburgh's defense led or tied for the League-lead in sacks (54.0), quarterback hits (117), takeaways (36), fumble recoveries (17) and rush TDs allowed (7). The Steelers also ranked among the NFL's top-five in interceptions (2nd, 20), interception rate (2nd, 3.89%), passing defense (3rd, 194.6), yards per play allowed (3rd, 4.74), passes defended (3rd, 83), yards per rush allowed (3rd, 3.79), forced fumbles (t-3rd, 19), tackles for loss (t-3rd, 90), opposing passer rating (4th, 80.7), pass yards per attempt allowed (4th, 6.06), total defense (5th, 304.1), scoring defense (t-5th, 18.9) and offensive TDs allowed (5th, 30).

During the 2019 season, Tomlin reached 125 career wins in the fewest games (192) in team history, tying him with Bud Grant for the fifth-fewest games by an NFL head coach to secure 125 regular season wins. He was the third head coach in NFL history with 133 or more regular season wins in their first 13 seasons as a head coach, joining Tony Dungy: 139 and Shula: 138.

Tomlin led the Steelers to a record of 9-6-1 in 2018. With a Week 5 win against Atlanta, he and quarterback Ben Roethlisberger broke a tie with Chuck Noll and Terry Bradshaw for the most wins by a head coach-quarterback tandem in franchise history. The duo's 127 regular-season wins (2007-20) are now third-most by a head coach-quarterback pairing in NFL history, trailing only the tandems of Sean Payton/Drew Brees and Bill Belichick/Tom Brady.

Roethlisberger set single-season franchise records for touchdown passes (34), pass completions (452) and passing yards (5,129) in 2018, while leading all NFL players in pass completions and passing yardage. Wide receiver Antonio Brown led the NFL with a single-season franchise record 15 TD catches. Brown and second-year wide receiver JuJu Smith-Schuster also made history, becoming the sixth wide receiver duo in NFL history and first in Steelers history to record 100 receptions and 1,000 yards apiece in a single season. Smith-Schuster was voted Team MVP for his breakout year.

With Tomlin at the helm, six Steelers were named to the Pro Bowl for their 2018 performances — the third consecutive season with at least five selections. Brown, running back James Conner, defensive tackle Cameron Heyward and offensive linemen DeCastro, Maurkice Pouncey and Villanueva all received Pro Bowl accolades.

In 2017, Tomlin led the Steelers to a 13-3 record, including a 6-0 record against the AFC North, securing his sixth division title and a No. 2 seed in the AFC for the postseason. The team's 13 wins marked the most wins in a single season in the Tomlin era.

Under Tomlin's guidance, Roethlisberger became the eighth quarterback in NFL history to reach 50,000 passing yards, finishing the 2017 season with a career total of 51,065. Brown was voted team MVP for his outstanding performance and became the first Steeler to earn the honor four times (2011, '13, '15 and '17). Brown led the league with 1,533 receiving yards and set an NFL record for the most receptions (582) and receiving yards (7,848) by a player in any five-year span in League history. For the second straight season, running back Le'Veon Bell led the AFC in scrimmage yards per game (129.7) and surpassed his own Steelers single-season record for receptions by a running back with 85. Defensively, the team led the NFL and set a Steelers single-season record with 56 sacks in 2017.

For their efforts, Roethlisberger, Brown and Bell were named to the Pro Bowl along with kicker Chris Boswell, linebacker Ryan Shazier, and offensive linemen DeCastro, Maurkice Pouncey and Villanueva. Brown, Bell and DeCastro were also named AP All-Pro, along with Heyward. Heyward and fullback Roosevelt Nix were also added to the Pro Bowl roster prior to the game.

The Steelers finished with an 11-5 record in 2016, and won each of the team's final seven regular-season games, to secure the AFC North title and No. 3 seed in the AFC for the postseason. It marked the fifth time Tomlin led the Steelers to at least 11 wins in the regular season. Pittsburgh won its first two postseason games, vs. Miami in an AFC Wild Card Game and at Kansas City in an AFC Divisional Playoff, before falling to the New England Patriots in the AFC Championship Game.

Bell was voted the Steelers' MVP for his 2016 efforts. He led the NFL in scrimmage yards per game (157.0), and he became the fastest player in NFL history to reach 3,000 rushing yards and 1,500 receiving yards in his career (38 games). In the Steelers' Week 14 victory at Buffalo in 2016, Bell set the single-game team record with 236 rushing yards and tied the single-game team mark with three rushing TDs.

Roethlisberger and Brown continued to etch their names in NFL history. Roethlisberger finished the season with the ninth-most passing TDs in NFL history (301) and the 10th-most passing yards in NFL history (46,814). Brown set numerous NFL records, including one for the most receptions in a player's first 100 career regular-season games (622) and one for the most receptions in NFL history by a player in any four-year span (481).

Tomlin also reached his 100th career win in 2016 and did so in the fewest games (157) in team history. He became the eighth head coach in NFL history to reach 100 regular-season wins in their first 10 seasons.

Despite significant injuries to multiple starters during the 2015 season, the Steelers finished with a 10-6 record (2nd in the AFC North) and advanced to the Divisional Round of the playoffs. The Steelers finished third in the NFL in total offense (1st in the AFC), while the defense posted 48 sacks under first-year defensive coordinator Keith Butler. The 48 sacks were the third most in the NFL in 2015.

In 2014, Tomlin orchestrated one of the top offensive outputs in team history. The Steelers broke numerous offensive records, including points scored (436), total yards (6,577), passing yards per game (301.6) and total first downs (379). On an individual basis in 2014, Tomlin guided Roethlisberger, Brown and Bell — who all made the Pro Bowl — to record-setting years.

Arguably one of his best coaching performances may have come in the second half of the 2013 season. Despite an 0-4 and 2-6 start to the season, the Steelers finished the regular season surging to a 6-2 second-half record, falling just short of the playoffs.

In 2012, Tomlin led the Steelers to a 27-10 victory over the New York Jets in the home opener, becoming the first coach in team history to win his first six home openers. The Steelers finished the season with the top-ranked overall defense (275.8 yards/game) and finished first in passing defense (185.2 yards/game).

In 2011, Tomlin led the Steelers to a 12-4 record, marking the second straight season the team posted 12 wins, which was only the second time in team history it had been achieved. The Steelers finished the season with the top-ranked total defense (271.8 ypg) and scoring defense (14.2 ppg). Pittsburgh posted a 7-1 record at home in 2011, for the second time in Tomlin's career (2007). He also had five players (Roethlisberger, Mike Wallace, Pouncey, Troy Polamalu and Brown) selected to the Pro Bowl following the season.

Tomlin's seven road wins during the 2010 regular season tied a Steelers record previously set in 1978 and 2004. The Steelers finished second in total defense under Tomlin's guidance in 2010, allowing only 276.8 yards per game. Pittsburgh led the NFL and set a team record in rushing defense, yielding only 62.8 yards per game (1,004 yards), the third-best total in NFL history dating back to 1970. The Steelers also established an NFL record in 2010 by not allowing an opponent to rush for more than 75 yards in any of their first eight games during the regular season.

In all, the Steelers' defense led the NFL in 2010 in rushing yards allowed (62.8 yds./game), points allowed (232), touchdowns allowed (22), quarterback sacks (48), rushing average (3.0), yards per play (4.5) and yards allowed on first down (4.08). It finished second in the league in passing average (6.31), turnover advantage (+14) and red-zone efficiency (40.0, tied).

Under Tomlin, the Steelers broke new ground on offense in 2009. Pittsburgh's offense ranked seventh in the NFL (ninth passing, 19th rushing) but became the first unit in team history to boast a 4,000-yard passer (Roethlisberger), two 1,000-yard receivers (Hines Ward, Santonio Holmes) and a 1,000-yard rusher (Rashard Mendenhall) in the same season. Pittsburgh's defense ranked fifth in the NFL (third vs. run, 16th vs. pass) while leading the AFC and finishing one shy of the NFL lead with 47 quarterback sacks.

The Steelers continued to be dominant at home under Tomlin in 2009. Pittsburgh finished with a 6-2 home record after finishing 7-1 (2007) and 6-2 (2008) at home during Tomlin's first two seasons.

Tomlin finished the 2008 season with a 12-4 record and his second consecutive AFC North Division title, becoming the only Steelers head coach to win division crowns in each of his first two seasons. He also set a record with 22 regular-season wins in his first two years at the helm and is the only Steelers head coach to win at least 10 games in each of his first two seasons. Tomlin's .688 winning percentage (22-10) after two years is the best in Steelers history.

The Steelers' defense was dominant under Tomlin's guidance in 2008, leading the NFL in total defense (237.2), pass defense (156.9), points per game (13.9), total yards per play (3.9), rushing yards per attempt (3.3), passing yards per attempt (4.7) and third-down efficiency (31.4), while finishing second in rush defense (80.3).

Tomlin led the Steelers to a 10-6 record in 2007 and became just the second coach in team history to post a winning record, win a division title and earn a playoff berth in his inaugural season. Tomlin began his head coaching career by becoming only the second Steelers head coach to win his first three games. During 2007, the Steelers became just the fifth team in NFL history to win their first four home games by at least 20 points.

Tomlin guided the Steelers to the NFL's top-ranked defense in 2007, yielding only 266.4 yards per game. The Steelers' defense ranked third in the NFL against both the run (89.9 avg.) and the pass (176.5 avg.), and finished third in the league in total yards allowed per play (4.6). Pittsburgh's defense led the NFL in passing yards per play (5.7) and first downs allowed per game (15.6), and finished second in the league in points allowed per game (16.8).

The Steelers' offense finished third in the NFL in rushing (135.5 avg.) during Tomlin's first season, sparked by Willie Parker, who led the league in rushing before injuring his leg in Week 16. Roethlisberger enjoyed a record-setting season during Tomlin's first year, establishing new team records for TD passes (32) and passer rating (104.1) while earning his first career Pro Bowl appearance.

Tomlin was the NFL's second-youngest head coach in 2007, and he became only the second Steelers coach in team history to win at least 10 games during his first year at the helm. The Steelers posted a 7-1 record at home in 2007 and were 5-1 in the AFC North (3-0 at home).

Tomlin spent the 2006 season as the Minnesota Vikings' defensive coordinator. That season, the Vikings ranked eighth in the NFL in total defense and first against the run while not allowing a 100-yard rusher the entire season.

Tomlin was the defensive backs coach with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers from 2001-05. In 2002, Tomlin guided one of the most productive defensive backfields in the NFL, culminating with its performance in Super Bowl XXXVII. The secondary recorded four of the team's five interceptions, returning two for touchdowns, to help Tampa Bay capture the franchise's first Super Bowl title.

Before joining Tampa Bay's staff, Tomlin served two seasons as the defensive backs coach at the University of Cincinnati (1999-00). He took over a secondary that ranked 111th in the nation in pass defense in 1998 and helped them improve to 61st overall in his first season. Under Tomlin's direction in 2000, the Bearcats ranked eighth in the nation in interceptions as well as fourth nationally in total turnovers.

Prior to joining the Cincinnati staff, Tomlin had a short stint on the coaching staff at Tennessee-Martin and then spent two seasons at Arkansas State, coaching wide receivers in 1997 before switching to defensive backs in 1998.

Tomlin spent the 1996 season as a graduate assistant at the University of Memphis, where he worked with the Tiger defensive backs and special teams units. He began his coaching career in 1995 as wide receivers coach at Virginia Military Institute.

Tomlin was a three-year starter at wide receiver at William & Mary (1990-94) and finished his career with 101 receptions for 2,054 yards and 20 TD catches. A first-team All-Yankee Conference selection in 1994, he established a school record with a 20.2 yards-per-catch average.

Tomlin is very active in the community and was recognized, along with his wife Kiya, in February 2013 by the Chuck Cooper Foundation with the Career Achievement in Leadership Diversity and Community Service Award. Tomlin also participates in the annual ManUp Pittsburgh conference which encourages local men to be better fathers and role models.

It was one of Heyward's most complete seasons in his career. He got more votes than any other defensive tackle in the NFL for the Associated Press All-Pro Team, showing just how dominant a season he posted.

Watt was voted the team MVP for a record fifth time after a season in which he had 61 tackles, including 19 for a loss, 11.5 sacks, a league-high six forced fumbles, 27 quarterback hits and four pass defenses. He also was named second-team All-Pro and finalist for NFL Defensive Player of the Year.

Arthur Smith, previous head coach for the Atlanta Falcons for three years (2021-23), is in his second season as the Steelers' offensive coordinator in 2025. This marks his 17th year in the National Football League coaching ranks.

The Steelers' offense in 2024 showed signs of progress under Smith. Pittsburgh improved in total offense, rush offense and scoring offense in 2024.

The Steelers leaned heavily on the run, ranking 11th in the League in rush offense (127.4 yards/game) and logging the fourth-most rushing attempts in the NFL.

Pittsburgh's 317.2 yards/game was up from 304.3 in 2023. The Steelers also averaged 22.4 points/game last season, up from 17.9 points/game in 2023. The Steelers threw 21 TD passes in 2024. ARTHUR
SMITH
OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR

DANNY SMITH

SPECIAL TEAMS COORDINATOR

Danny Smith is in his 13th season with the Steelers as the special teams coordinator. Smith was hired on January 31, 2013.

Since joining the Steelers in 2015, kicker Chris Boswell is 272-of-309 overall on field goal attempts (88.0%), including 123-of-153 (80.4%) from 40 yards or longer. He ranks second in field goal percentage (88.0%) among all NFL kickers with at least 300 field goal attempts since the start of the 2015 season. Boswell's 88.0 field goal percent ranks first in Steelers history among kickers with at least 300 field goal attempts. He has registered a franchise-record 10 career game-winning field goals (last five min. of the fourth quarter or overtime for a lead change.)

In 2024, Boswell led the NFL in field goals made (41), points by a kicker (158) and field goal percentage (93.2, min. 35 FGA), and also ranked second in field goals attempted (44). His 158 points are tied for the fifth-most by any kicker since the 1970 AFL-NFL merger. His 41 field goals made in 2024 are the second-most by any kicker since the 1970 AFL-NFL merger.

TOM ARTH

QUARTERBACKS COACH

Tom Arth is in his second season as the Steelers' quarterbacks coach in 2025.

The Steelers completely made over their quarterback room in 2024.

The Steelers went from averaging 186.1 yards passing/game with 13 TD passes and nine interceptions in 2023 to 192.0 passing yards/game with 21 TD passes and just six interceptions.

The combination of Russell Wilson and Justin Fields also rushed 105 times for 444 yards and seven more TDs.

He helped the Chargers rank fifth in passing offense (251.2 ypg.) and No. 11 in total offense (344.3 ypg.) over his tenure. Arth helped quarterback Justin Herbert continue to set records, as no player has more completions (1,613) or passing yards (18,134) over the first four seasons of a career. Herbert's 114 passing TDs and 125 total TDs rank second in League history – only Dan Marino (142) and Josh Allen (135) registered more, respectively, over their first four seasons in the NFL.

Arth holds nine years of collegiate head coaching acumen and three seasons of NFL playing experience to the offensive staff. He spent three years (2019-21) as the head coach at the University of Akron following two seasons (2017-18) at the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga. Arth and his wife, Lauren, have five children, Carolina, Tommy, Kate, Patrick and Elizabeth.

ZACH AZZANNI

WIDE RECEIVERS COACH

Zach Azzanni is in his second season as the Steelers' wide receivers coach in 2025.

Azzanni mentored the breakout of third-year wideout Calvin Austin III in 2024. Austin III finished the season with 36 receptions for 548 yards and four TDs, averaging 15.2 yards/catch and showing he could be a big-play contributor. Austin also served as the team's punt returner and ranked seventh in the NFL with a 10.3-yard average.

In 2020, Azzanni coached first-round pick Jerry Jeudy, who registered 52 catches for 856 yards (16.5 avg.) with three TDs – the second-most receptions (52) and receiving yards (856) by a Denver rookie.

Azzanni coached Sutton to his first career Pro Bowl selection after leading the team with 72 receptions for 1,112 yards with six TDs.

Before his lone season with the Bears (2017), Azzanni spent four years at the University of Tennessee as wide receivers coach/recruiting coordinator in 2013 before being promoted to passing game coordinator/wide receivers coach in 2015.

It was one of Heyward's most complete seasons in his career. He got more votes than any other defensive tackle in the NFL for the Associated Press All-Pro Team, showing just how dominant a season he posted.

T.J. Watt was voted the team MVP for a team-record fifth time after a season in which he had 61 tackles, including 19 for a loss, 11.5 sacks, a league-high six forced fumbles, 27 quarterback hits and four pass defenses. He also was named second-team All-Pro and is a finalist for NFL Defensive Player of the Year.

In 2023, Watt became the first player since 1982, when the individual sack became an official statistic, to lead the League in sacks three times (2020, 2021 and 2023). He surpassed his brother J.J. Watt, Reggie White, DeMarcus Ware, Michael Strahan, Kevin Greene, Mark Gastineau and Jared Allen, who each led the League in sacks twice.

EDDIE FAULKNER

RUNNING BACKS COACH

Eddie Faulkner is in his seventh season as the running backs coach for the Steelers, after being hired on January 17, 2019.

The running back group was assured of being a big part of every game plan under first-year offensive coordinator Arthur Smith in 2024. That proved to be the case, as only the Eagles and Ravens ran the ball a higher percentage than the 52.1 the Steelers posted in 2024.

Najee Harris led the way with 263 carries for 1,043 yards and six TDs. He also caught 36 passes for 283 yards. It was Harris' fourth-consecutive 1,000-yard season to open his career, making him just the 14th player in league history to do so.

Faulkner mentored the tandem of Harris and Jaylen Warren, each of whom eclipsed 1,000 scrimmage yards in 2023. Harris and Warren were the fourth duo in franchise history to eclipse 1,000 scrimmage yards in the same season and first since Walter Abercrombie and Earnest Jackson in 1986.

In 2022, with Faulkner's guidance, Harris eclipsed 1,000 rushing yards for the second consecutive season, becoming the first running back in franchise history to do so in each of his first two seasons.

Faulkner oversaw the development of Harris in 2021 who led the NFL in touches (377), led all NFL running backs in catches (74) and finished the season with the most rushes (307), rushing yards (1,200), catches and receiving yards (467) by a rookie running back in franchise history, culminating in a trip to the Pro Bowl.

Prior to joining the Steelers, Faulkner spent six years, 2013-18, at NC State as the school's tight ends/fullbacks/special teams coordinator.

Faulkner spent the 2012 season at the University of Wisconsin coaching the Badgers' tight ends.

Jacob Pederson won All-Big Ten honors and the League's Kwalick-Clark Tight End of the Year award.

In 2011, Faulkner held the running backs/special teams coordinator title at Northern Illinois University.

Following the 2002 season at Anderson University, Faulkner spent the 2003-10 campaigns at Ball State University, serving as a graduate assistant (2003-04), running backs/special teams (2005-08) and the offensive coordinator/running backs (2009-10), including a stint as the school's interim head coach at the end of the 2010 season.

Faulkner, a member of two Big Ten championship teams as Wisconsin's running back, rushed for 1,064 yards and 7 TDs in his collegiate career from 1996-2000.

DENZEL MARTIN

OUTSIDE LINEBACKERS COACH

Watt, who garnered AP First Team All-Pro honors for the fourth time in his seven year career, was selected by the NFL Committee of 101 as the 2023 AFC Defensive Player of the Year. He has now captured the award three times in the last four years (2020, 2021 and 2023).

In his third season in 2022, Martin worked with a defense that consistently improved over the course of the year, holding opponents to 17 points or less through its final seven games.

With Martin's assistance, Watt became the NFL's 2021 Defensive Player of the Year, tallying a career-high 22.5 sacks, 21 tackles for loss and five forced fumbles.

In 2020, Martin assisted with one of the top pass-rushing units in the NFL, which included the tandem of Watt and Bud Dupree, who combined for 23.0 sacks, 56 quarterback hits and 31 tackles for loss.

Prior to joining the Steelers in 2016, Martin spent a year as a recruiting graduate assistant at the University of Missouri in 2015, where he played linebacker from 2010-14. Martin, a native of St. Louis, Mo., received a degree in multidisciplinary studies in 2014 and a master's in education with an emphasis in positive coaching from Missouri in 2015.

In 2023, Watt became the first player since 1982 to lead the League in sacks three times (2020, 2021 and 2023). He surpassed his brother J.J. Watt, Reggie White, DeMarcus Ware, Michael Strahan, Kevin Greene, Mark Gastineau and Jared Allen, who each led the League in sacks twice.

Pat Meyer is entering his fourth season as the Steelers' offensive line coach in 2025. He was hired by Pittsburgh on February 15, 2022.

Meyer, who boasted 20 years of coaching experience prior to his arrival in Pittsburgh, including nine in the NFL, joined the Steelers after two seasons with the Carolina Panthers as their offensive line coach (2020-21). He also coached offensive line in the NFL with the L.A. Chargers (2017-19) and Chicago Bears (2013-14).

The Steelers selected three offensive linemen in the 2024 NFL Draft, taking tackle Troy Fautanu in the first round, center Zach Frazier in the second and guard Mason McCormick in the fourth, one year after the selection of Broderick Jones in the first round and Spencer Anderson in the seventh.

The Steelers started four different line combinations in the first six games because of injuries, but Meyer mentored Frazier with being if not the best rookie offensive linemen in the NFL in 2024, then most certainly the best center.

Isaac Williams is entering his fifth season as the Steelers' assistant offensive line coach in 2025. He was hired by Pittsburgh on March 15, 2022.

McCormick moved into the starting lineup at right guard when James Daniels suffered a season-ending Achilles' tendon injury and played well, particularly showing his chops as a run blocker.

Meyer's unit blocked for Najee Harris and Jaylen Warren, who each eclipsed 1,000 scrimmage yards in 2023. They're the fourth duo in franchise history to eclipse 1,000 scrimmage yards in the same season.

In his first year in Pittsburgh, the run game improved from ranking 24th in the League through the first half of the season, to finishing third-best after Week 10.

Prior to Carolina, Meyer served as the offensive line coach for the Chargers for three years, and also spent two seasons with the Buffalo Bills (2015-16).

Meyer began his NFL coaching career with the Chicago Bears, first as an assistant offensive line coach in 2013 before taking over the primary coaching duties in 2014.

Meyer spent one season in the Canadian Football League in 2012, where was an offensive line coach and offensive coordinator for the Montreal Alouettes.

Meyer began coaching as a graduate assistant at Memphis in 1997, where he served multiple roles.

Meyer led the strength and conditioning program at NC State for six years (2000-05) before becoming their offensive line coach in 2006.

In 2007, Meyer headed the strength and conditioning staff at Florida State. He returned to his alma mater, Colorado State, for three seasons (2008-11).

Meyer played offensive line at Colorado State from 1991-94, where he was a three-time All-Western Athletic Conference selection.

Williams aided a unit that blocked for the tandem of Najee Harris and Jaylen Warren, each of whom eclipsed 1,000 scrimmage yards in 2023. Harris and Warren were the fourth duo in franchise history to eclipse 1,000 scrimmage yards in the same season and first since 1986.

In his first year with the Steelers, the run game improved from ranking 24th in the League through the first half of the season, to finishing third-best after Week 10.

Williams came to Pittsburgh after collegiate stints at North Carolina Central University (2021), Morgan State (2018-20) and Northern Colorado (2016-17).

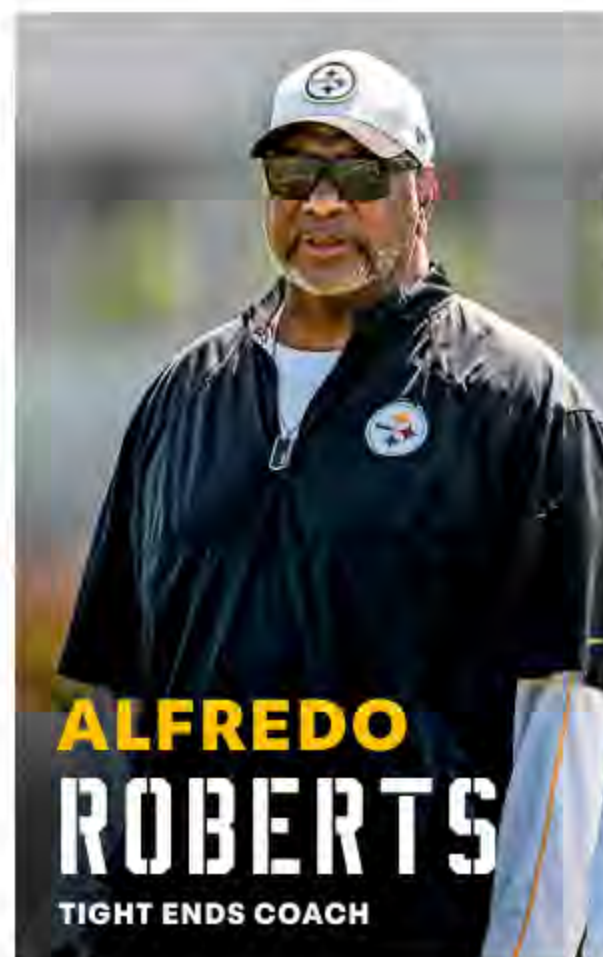

Prior to North Carolina Central, Williams spent three seasons (2018-20) in the MEAC as an offensive line coach/run game coordinator at Morgan State.

While the Bears did not compete in 2020 due to COVID, Williams developed All-MEAC tackle Joshua Miles in 2019, who participated in the East-West Shrine game and was selected by the Arizona Cardinals in the seventh round of the 2019 NFL Draft.

Williams was a four-year starting offensive lineman and three-time captain at Alcorn State (2008-11). He earned all-conference honors as a junior and senior, and graduated with honors. Williams played one season with the Laredo Rattlers of the Arena Football League in 2013.

Williams earned his bachelor's degree in nutrition and dietetics from Alcorn State University in 2012, and then earned his master's degree in education leadership from the University of Northern Colorado in 2017.

Williams has also coached at Millsaps College, Clinton High School (Mississippi) and Sumner Hill Jr. High School (Mississippi).

Roberts, who starts his 27th year of coaching overall, guided Pat Freiermuth and a quartet of tight ends in 2024. Freiermuth led the Steelers in receptions with 65 for 653 yards and a team-best seven TDs. His reception total was tied for eighth-most among NFL tight ends, while his TD total was tied for fourth-most at the position. As a group, the tight ends caught 96 passes for 933 yards and 10 TDs, a big uptick from the 2023 season when they combined for just 62 catches for 536 yards and two scores.

In 2023, Roberts managed a position group beset by injuries. Freiermuth finished the season with 32 receptions for 308 yards (9.6 avg.) and two TDs.

In 2022, Roberts saw another year of success from Freiermuth, who despite injuries, finished the season sixth in receptions (63) and receiving yards (732) among all NFL tight ends. His 63 catches also ranked fourth-most by a tight end in a single season in franchise history.

In 2021, Freiermuth – under Roberts' guidance – set a franchise record for receptions (60) and receiving yards by a rookie tight end (497). His seven touchdowns accounted for almost as many as his entire tight end draft class combined (8).

Roberts spent four seasons with the L.A. Chargers as their running backs coach (2017-19) and tight ends coach (2020). He also coached in Indianapolis (2012-15), Tampa Bay (2009-11), Cleveland (2007-08) and Jacksonville (2003-06).

Over his 20 seasons coaching in the NFL, Roberts has mentored multiple Pro Bowl players at tight end and running back.

ZAC TAYLOR
HEAD COACH

PRO CAREER: Zac Taylor is in his seventh season as head coach of the Cincinnati Bengals, after being named the 10th head coach in team history on Feb. 4, 2019. In 2024, his sixth season as head coach, Taylor guided the Bengals to their fourth consecutive winning season as the team posted a 9-8 record. After falling to 4-8 in early December, Taylor rallied the team to five straight wins to close out the regular season, with two of those victories coming on the road in prime time. He once again orchestrated one of the NFL's most dynamic offenses, serving as play-caller for a unit that led the league in passing yards per game (272.9), ranked sixth in points per game (27.8) and ranked ninth in total yards per game (365.5). Taylor led Cincinnati to back-to-back AFC North titles in 2021 and 2022, marking the first time in team history the Bengals won their division in consecutive years. Under Taylor's direction in 2021, the Bengals won the AFC for the first time since 1988 and advanced to Super Bowl LVI. They followed up with another AFC Championship appearance following the 2022 season, improving Taylor's postseason record to 5-2. Taylor came to Cincinnati after two seasons with the L.A. Rams, where he served as assistant wide receivers coach in 2017 and quarterbacks coach in '18. He broke into NFL coaching with Miami as assistant quarterbacks coach in 2012, then was elevated to quarterbacks coach for the Dolphins from 2013-15. Career record (including postseason): 51-54-1.

BACKGROUND: Taylor played quarterback at Wake Forest (2002-03), Butler County (Kan.) C.C. (2004) and Nebraska (2005-06). As a senior in 2006, he was named Big 12 Offensive Player of the Year after passing for 3,197 yards and leading the Cornhuskers to a 9-3 record, an appearance in the Big 12 Championship Game and a berth in the Cotton Bowl. He was inducted into the Nebraska Football Hall of Fame in 2017. He joined the Tampa Bay Buccaneers as a college free agent in 2007, but was waived prior to the start of training camp. He then spent the 2007 season with the Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the Canadian Football League (did not play). Taylor had two stints in the college coaching ranks, serving on staff at Texas A&M (2008-11) and Cincinnati (2016).

PERSONAL: Taylor was born on May 10, 1983, in Norman, Okla. He earned a bachelor's degree in communication studies from Nebraska in 2006. He and his wife, Sarah, have four children —Brooks, Luke, Emma Claire and Milly. Sarah Taylor is the daughter of former Green Bay Packers and Texas A&M head coach Mike Sherman. Taylor's father, Sherwood, was a defensive back and captain at Oklahoma (1976-79), then later served as an assistant coach at Oklahoma and Kansas State. Taylor's brother, Press, played quarterback at Marshall and currently is the pass game coordinator for the Chicago Bears.

IN THE COMMUNITY

The Pittsburgh Steelers are proud to be a part of the Western Pennsylvania community.

The organization's strong commitment to this area dates back to 1933 when Arthur J. Rooney, Sr. founded the team. Current President Art Rooney II is known as one of the most active NFL owners and one of Pittsburgh's most involved executives in civic affairs, as was his father, the late Steelers Chairman Dan Rooney.

Steelers players, coaches and front office staff are involved in appearances, charitable donations, and outreach programs with nonprofit and community groups. It's our way of giving back to the community that has given us so much!

Salvation Army Project Bundle Up

T.J. Watt, Cole Holcomb, Troy Fautanu, Logan Lee, Alex Highsmith, Payton Wilson, Mason Rudolph, Ezezi Otomewo, Calvin Anderson, and Salvation Army ambassador Pat Freiermuth joined local children for this year's annual Project Bundle Up trip. In partnership with The Salvation Army, the players helped kids pick out new coats, boots, gloves, and hats to prepare for the winter season ahead.

Jonnu and Community Kitchen

Jonnu Smith visited Community Kitchen Pittsburgh in Hazelwood, where he toured the facility and helped the chefs in the kitchen. Smith learned about the organization's mission to use food as the foundation to change lives and strengthen communities, while sharing his own experiences and passion for helping others build brighter futures.

Rookie's Greater Pittsburgh Food Bank

The Steelers rookie class visited the Greater Pittsburgh Community Food Bank, where they toured the facility and learned about the organization's efforts to provide those in need with access to nutritious options. The players participated in packing over 2,000 pounds of fresh produce to be distributed throughout the Pittsburgh community.

Youth and Empowerment Mental Health Yoga

The Pittsburgh Steelers partnered with Heal, Homie and Steel Smiling for a Youth Empowerment & Mental Health Yoga session at the stadium. Steelers players Alex Highsmith, Malik Harrison, Chuck Clark and Calvin Austin III joined youth from Gwen's Girls, Amachi Pittsburgh, Neighborhood Resilience, and Homeless Fund 412 for yoga and a guided mindfulness exercise.

HALL OF HONOR

The Pittsburgh Steelers Hall of Honor, established with its inaugural class of 27 members in 2017, is comprised of former players, coaches and front office personnel who were integral in creating and sustaining the franchise's success dating back to when the team was founded in 1933.

Each Hall of Honor inductee receives a replica of the solid steel football that was given to Steelers founder Art Rooney Sr. by the United States Steel Corporation and United Steel Workers in 1982 to commemorate the team's 50th season. The footballs are on display in the Steelers Hall of Honor Museum located in Acrisure Stadium, which provides opportunities for fans to learn more about the franchise, view rare artifacts preserved by the team, and relive the biggest moments and people in Steelers history.

STIRRED UP, TOGETHER

COOKING, LIKE SOCIAL CHANGE, IS AN IMPERFECT ART

Our justice system can be very messy, especially when it comes to the way it works (or doesn't) for young people.

Know what it takes to get at-risk youth on a more employable, more profitable, more successful path forward? A community that actively works to give them back their dreams.

That's what we're doing here. That's what you're doing there. So get stirred up with us and together we can make some change.

PITTSBURGH STEELERS HISTORY

The fifth-oldest franchise in the NFL, the Pittsburgh Steelers were founded on July 8, 1933, by Arthur Joseph Rooney. Originally named the Pittsburgh Pirates, they were a member of the Eastern Division of the 10-team NFL. The other four current NFL teams in existence at that time were the Chicago (Arizona) Cardinals, Green Bay Packers, Chicago Bears and New York Giants.

One of the great pioneers of the sports world, Art Rooney passed away on August 25, 1988, following a stroke at the age of 87. "The Chief," as he was affectionately known, is enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame and is remembered as one of Pittsburgh's greatest people.

Born on January 27, 1901, in Coulterville, Pa., Art Rooney was the oldest of Daniel and Margaret Rooney's nine children. He grew up in Old Allegheny, now known as Pittsburgh's North Side, and until his death he lived on the North Side, just a short distance from where Three Rivers Stadium stood.

Rooney attended St. Peter's Parochial School and Duquesne University Prep School. He studied collegiately at Indiana (Pa.) Normal, which is now Indiana University of Pennsylvania, as well as at Georgetown and Duquesne.

An exceptional all-around athlete, Rooney held middleweight and welterweight titles from the AAU Boxing Championships and was named to the U.S. Olympic Boxing Team in 1920, although he did not participate in the Olympic Games. He played minor league baseball from 1920-25 before a promising career was cut short by an arm injury. Rooney continued playing football for several semi-pro teams in the Pittsburgh area. He was married on June 11, 1931, to Kathleen McNulty, and the couple had five sons — Daniel, Art Jr., Tim, John and Pat. In 1964, Rooney was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame for his contributions to the growth of the NFL and the Pittsburgh Steelers.

By the mid-1960s, Rooney had begun to turn over much of the operation of the Steelers to his oldest son, Dan. After having worked in every area of the organization since 1955, Daniel M. Rooney was named president of the Steelers in 1975. In 2000, Dan Rooney was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame. He joined his father Art to form only the second father-son tandem to be inducted into the Hall of Fame. The late New York Giants owners Wellington Mara and his father Tim were the first.

Late Steelers Chairman, Ambassador Dan Rooney, spent 54 consecutive years with the organization before being named U.S. Ambassador to Ireland in 2009 by President Barack Obama. Rooney was required to move to Ireland in 2009 to fulfill his duties as ambassador.

As an NFL owner, Dan Rooney was widely recognized as one of the league's most influential executives and one of Pittsburgh's leading contributors to civic affairs. Among his community activities, he was the co-founder of the American Ireland Fund, and he was a board member of the United Way of America, the American Diabetes Association, the Pittsburgh History and Landmarks Foundation, the Extra Mile Foundation and the University of Pittsburgh Medical Center.

Dan Rooney was a member of several NFL committees over 30-plus years. He served on the board of directors for the NFL Trust Fund, NFL Films and the Scheduling Committee. He was appointed chairman of the Expansion Committee in 1973, which considered new franchise locations and directed the addition of Seattle and Tampa Bay as expansion teams in 1976.

In 1976, Rooney was also named chairman of the Negotiating Committee, and in 1982 he contributed to the negotiations for the Collective Bargaining Agreement for the NFL and the Players Association. He again played a key role in the labor agreement reached between NFL owners and players in 1993. Rooney was also largely responsible for developing the realignment plan and scheduling format that the NFL adopted prior to the 2002 season. In October 2002, he was named chairman of the NFL's Diversity in the Workplace Committee. Rooney was also Chairman of the Hall of Fame Committee. In February 1999, he was named the recipient of the Philadelphia Maxwell Football Club's Francis J. "Reds" Bagnell Award for outstanding contributions to the game of football.

Daniel M. Rooney was born on Pittsburgh's North Side on July 20, 1932. He was a 1950 graduate of North Catholic High School, where he played quarterback on the varsity football team. He went on to graduate from Duquesne University in 1955 with a bachelor of arts degree in accounting. Rooney passed away on April 13, 2017 at the age of 84, survived at the time by his wife of 66 years, Patricia (who passed away in 2021), and seven of their nine children, 20 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Dan Rooney was named Steelers Chairman Emeritus in July 2009 after he was named United States Ambassador to Ireland. Rooney served as United States Ambassador until late 2012.

In 2003, Dan Rooney officially turned over the title of Steelers team president to his oldest son, Arthur J. Rooney II, who had previously served as the team's president and general counsel. A 1978 graduate of the University of Pittsburgh where he majored in political science, Art II received his law degree from Duquesne University School of Law in 1982. He currently serves as Chairman of the NFL's Stadium Workplace Diversity Committee as well as the Chair of the NFL Compensation Committee. He also serves on additional NFL committees including the Legislative Committee, the Management Council Executive Committee, the International Committee, Health & Safety Advisory Committee and the NFL Foundation.

Art Rooney II is also very active in the Pittsburgh community, devoting a substantial amount of his time to various organizations. He currently serves as Chairman of the Board of St. Vincent College, Chairman of the board of the Chuck Noll Foundation for Brain Injury Research, and he serves on several other non-profit boards including United Way of Southwest Pennsylvania and the Board of Trustees for the University of Pittsburgh.

July 29, 2000 – Art and Dan Rooney form only the second father-son tandem to be inducted into the Hall of Fame.

1930s After founding the Pirates in 1933,

Art Rooney watched his club struggle through its first seven seasons with just 22 wins and five different head coaches. While home games were played at Forbes Field, Rooney often took his team to such cities as Johnstown, Latrobe, Youngstown, New Orleans and Louisville in the 1930s due to competition with baseball and college football.

In 1938, Rooney signed Colorado All-American Byron "Whizzer" White to a $15,800 contract, making White the first "big money" player in the NFL. White led the League in rushing that year and became one of the NFL's most illustrious alumni. He served 31 years as a Justice of the United States Supreme Court before retiring in 1993.

1950s Succeeding Sutherland, John Michelosen was head coach for the 1948-51 seasons, compiling a 20-26-2 record. In 1952, Joe Bach returned for his second stint with the Steelers, having coached the team previously in 1935-36. The Steelers became the last team to abandon the single wing for the T-formation in 1952.

Bach resigned for health reasons following the 1954 season and was replaced by assistant coach Walt Kiesling, who had been the Steelers' head coach twice previously. Kiesling's three stints covered the 1939-40, 1941-44 and the 1954-56 campaigns.

STEELERS HISTORY

The Steelers are the fifth-oldest franchise in the NFL. The team was founded on July 8, 1933.

1940s In 1940, Rooney changed the team name to the Pittsburgh Steelers, representing the heritage of Pittsburgh. The first winning record in the organization's history came in 1942 when head coach Walt Kiesling led the Steelers to a 7-4 finish with the league-leading rushing of rookie Bill Dudley. But the next year, Dudley joined the Armed Forces along with many other NFL players as the nation went to war. With rosters depleted, Rooney merged the Steelers with the Philadelphia Eagles in 1943 (Phil-Pitt "Steagles") and with the Chicago Cardinals (Card-Pitt) in 1944.

Rooney hired legendary Pitt coach Jock Sutherland in 1946, and Dudley returned from the war to earn NFL MVP honors, leading the league in rushing, interceptions and punt returns. Today, Dudley is a member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

Sutherland led the 1947 Steelers to an 8-4 record and a share of the Eastern division title, but they lost their first-ever postseason game 21-0 to Philadelphia. Sutherland died suddenly the following spring while on a scouting trip.

1960s Buddy Parker was named head coach in 1957 and over the next eight years he led the Steelers to five non-losing seasons. Hall of Fame quarterback Bobby Layne led the team through three of those campaigns, leading the Steelers to a 9-5 mark and a playoff game versus Detroit in 1962, which the Steelers lost 17-10. Parker completed his tenure with a 51-48-6 record and ranks fourth among all-time Steelers coaches for career wins.

On October 25, 1964, the Steelers made team history when they retired jersey No. 70 in honor of former defensive tackle Ernie Stautner. Stautner, who was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1969, became the first Steelers player to have his jersey retired.

Brief head coaching stints by Mike Nixon in 1965 and Bill Austin from 1966-68 preceded the hiring of 37-year-old Chuck Noll on January 27, 1969. Noll began to rebuild the Steelers through the draft, starting with the defense when he selected defensive tackle Joe Greene with his first choice in 1969. Today, Greene is a member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame, and joined Stautner as the only three players to have their jerseys retired by the team. Greene's No. 75 was officially retired on November 2, 2014.

A 1-13 record in 1969 gave the Steelers the first overall choice in the 1970 draft, with which Noll addressed the offense by selecting quarterback Terry Bradshaw, another Hall of Famer, after the Steelers won the first selection by winning a coin toss with the Chicago Bears. Cornerback Mel Blount was added in the third round that year, followed by linebacker Jack Ham in 1971 and running back Franco Harris in 1972. In all, Noll drafted 10 players who are now enshrined in the Hall of Fame including three in his first 20 picks and four of his first 38.

Two significant changes took place in 1970. The Steelers moved from the NFL Century Division to the AFC Central with the merger of the American Football League and the NFL. The Steelers also moved into a new home as Three Rivers Stadium opened. Previously, the Steelers had played home games at Forbes Field from 1933-57 and at both Forbes Field and Pitt Stadium from 1958-63. From 1964-69, the Steelers played at Pitt Stadium until Three Rivers opened in 1970.

Gradual improvement in the early 1970s resulted in the team's first division title in 1972 with an 11-3 record. In the first playoff game at Three Rivers, the Steelers defeated the Oakland Raiders 13-7 with Franco Harris' "Immaculate Reception" in the final minute. Despite a 21-17 loss the following week to the undefeated Miami Dolphins, the Steelers had reached a new plateau.

It took 40 years for the Steelers to finally win their first division title, but over the next decade they achieved a level of success unprecedented in professional football.

In 1973, the Steelers won a wild card playoff berth with a 10-4 record. Oakland avenged their loss from the previous year, however, with a 33-14 defeat of the Steelers in the playoffs.

January 29, 1974 – The Steelers select future Hall of Famers Lynn Swann (first round), Jack Lambert (second), John Stallworth (fourth) and Mike Webster (fifth) in the NFL Draft. Many consider it the best draft in NFL history. Following the draft, the Steelers also signed free agent Donnie Shell, who was elected into the Hall of Fame in 2020.

The Steelers won their first of six consecutive AFC Central titles in 1974 and marched past Buffalo (32-14) and Oakland (24-13) en route to their first Super Bowl appearance in Super Bowl IX. The fierce Pittsburgh defense led the way to a 16-6 victory over the Minnesota Vikings, and Art Rooney was presented the Vince Lombardi Trophy for the first time.

In 1975, the Steelers won 11 straight games to finish 12-2 and claimed their second-consecutive division crown. After defeating Baltimore (28-10) and Oakland (16-10) in the playoffs, the Steelers became the third team in NFL history, joining Green Bay and Miami, to win back-to-back Super Bowls with a 21-17 defeat of the Dallas Cowboys in Super Bowl X.

The 1976 Steelers struggled to a 1-4 start before reeling off nine straight victories, including five shutouts, to win the division with a 10-4 mark. They defeated Baltimore 40-14 in the playoffs, but lost to Oakland 24-7 after both starting running backs, Franco Harris and Rocky Bleier, were injured. The following year, the Steelers dropped a 34-21 decision to Denver in the first round of the playoffs after posting a 9-5 regular-season record.

In 1978, the Steelers made history after a league-best 14-2 regular season and playoff wins versus Denver (33-10) and Houston (34-5). Their 35-31 Super Bowl XIII win versus Dallas made the Steelers the first team to win three Super Bowls.

Yet another standard was set the following year when the 1979 Steelers defeated the Los Angeles Rams 31-19 in Super Bowl XIV to make them the first team in history to win four Super Bowls and the only team to win back-to-back Super Bowls twice. The Super Bowl victory followed a 12-4 regular-season record and playoff wins versus Miami (34-14) and Houston (27-13). With six consecutive AFC Central crowns, eight straight years of playoff appearances and four Super Bowl championships, the Steelers were tagged the "Team of the Decade" for the 1970s.

1980s As the 1980s opened, the Steelers stumbled, failing to make the playoffs in 1980 and 1981 with records of 9-7 and 8-8.

In 1982, the Steelers celebrated the team's 50th anniversary by qualifying for the playoffs with a 6-3 finish in a strike-interrupted season. During the season, an anniversary banquet was held to commemorate the team's first 50 seasons and to honor the Steelers' all-time team as selected by fan voting. Thousands of fans were attracted to Pittsburgh for a week of activities and exhibits before the anniversary season was ended by San Diego's 31-28 win in the playoffs. This would be the last playoff game at Three Rivers Stadium until the 1992 season, a span of 10 years.

The 1983 Steelers won their eighth division title with a 10-6 record, but fell in the postseason, 38-10, to the Los Angeles Raiders. The following year, the Steelers won their ninth division crown and the team advanced to the AFC Championship game with a 24-17 playoff win at Denver. A 45-28 loss to Miami in the AFC Championship game prevented the Steelers from a fifth Super Bowl appearance.

The Steelers' streak of 13 consecutive non-losing seasons came to an end in 1985 with a 7-9 finish, followed by a 6-10 record in 1986. Playoff hopes remained alive in 1987 until the Steelers lost their last two games to finish 8-7 during the strike-shortened season.

In 1988, the team suffered through its worst campaign in 19 years with a 5-11 record. The next season got off to a similar start with losses of 51-0 and 41-10 in the first two games. But the young team fought back to finish 9-7 and earn a wild card playoff berth on the season's final weekend. An exciting 26-23 overtime playoff win in Houston was followed by a heartbreaking 24-23 divisional playoff loss at Denver in which the Steelers led until the final minutes.

STEELERS HISTORY

In 1992, 34-year-old Bill Cowher became the National Football League's youngest head coach at the time. In his first season, the Steelers won the AFC Central division crown for the first time since 1984.

AP/Rusty Kennedy

1990s A 9-7 finish in 1990 left the Steelers in a three-way tie for the AFC Central lead, but they were eliminated from playoff contention by a 2-4 division record. The 1991 team finished second in the division despite a 7-9 record, winning the last two games under Noll at home against the Cincinnati Bengals and Cleveland Browns.

On December 26, 1991, Noll announced his retirement from football after 39 consecutive seasons, the last 23 as the Steelers' head coach, which made him one of only four men to coach the same team for 23 consecutive years. He left as the fifth-winningest coach in NFL history with an overall record of 209-156-1, and as the only coach to win four Super Bowls. Noll was rewarded in 1993 with his election to the Pro Football Hall of Fame in his first year of eligibility.

A new era began in 1992 with the retirement of Noll and the arrival of 34-year-old Bill Cowher, the National Football League's youngest head coach at the time he assumed control. In the first season of the new era, the Steelers won the AFC Central division crown for the first time since 1984 with an 11-5 record. While the team enjoyed new-found success, Cowher was recognized by the Associated Press as the NFL's Coach of the Year and six Steelers were selected to the Pro Bowl, the most in more than a decade.

Under Cowher, the Steelers became the first AFC team since the 1970 merger to claim its 10th division title. Their 11-5 record equaled the best in the conference and gave the Steelers home field advantage throughout the playoffs. However, in the first postseason game at Three Rivers Stadium in exactly 10 years, the Steelers were defeated by eventual AFC Champion Buffalo, 24-3.

In 1993, the Steelers earned a wild card playoff berth, marking their first consecutive playoff appearances since the 1983-84 seasons. A 9-7 record was good for second place in the division, but the season ended in a 27-24 overtime loss at Kansas City in an AFC Wild Card game.

The 1994 Steelers won seven of their final eight regular-season games for their strongest finish since 1978. They captured their second division title in three years with an AFC-best 12-4 record. After a 29-9 victory over the Cleveland Browns in the first round of the playoffs, Pittsburgh hosted its first AFC Championship game since 1979. The game went down to the wire and the Steelers lost to the San Diego Chargers 17-13.

At 38, Bill Cowher became the youngest head coach to lead his team to a Super Bowl appearance in 1995. Along the way, Cowher's team captured its third AFC Central division title in four years, made its fourth straight playoff appearance and won the Steelers' first AFC title since 1979. After a first-round bye, they defeated the Buffalo Bills (40-21) and the Indianapolis Colts (20-16), before losing to the Dallas Cowboys 27-17 in Super Bowl XXX in Tempe, Ariz.

In 1996, the Steelers finished 10-6 and earned their fifth consecutive trip to the playoffs. Cowher ended the season with 57 career victories, ranking him as the second-winningest coach in team history, behind his predecessor Noll.

The Steelers captured their fourth consecutive AFC Central title in 1997 while posting an 11-5 record. They were one play away from earning their sixth Super Bowl appearance but lost to Denver 24-21 in the AFC Championship game.

In 1998, the Steelers finished a disappointing 7-9, losing their last five regular-season games and missing the playoffs for the first time under Cowher.

The Steelers suffered their second consecutive losing season in 1999, when their record fell to 6-10.

The 1984 Steelers won their ninth division title with a 9-7 record.

However, 2000 will be remembered most for being the final season for the Steelers at Three Rivers Stadium. The Steelers were 4-4 at home during their final season, including victories in four of their final six home games. The Steelers won their final game at Three Rivers, 24-3, against the Washington Football Team on Dec. 16.

The Steelers finished 31 seasons at Three Rivers Stadium (1970-2000) with a 182-72 home record, including the postseason. The Steelers recorded their largest regular-season home attendance figures (440,428) since 1998 in the final season, including a season-high 58,183 fans during the final game in stadium history.

The Steelers began a new era in team history in 2001 with the opening of their new stadium, Heinz Field. The Steelers posted an AFC-best 13-3 regular-season record, including a 7-1 mark at home, and advanced to the AFC Championship Game.

The inaugural game was originally scheduled to be a nationally televised Sunday Night game on Sept. 16. However, the September 11 terrorist attacks on America forced the NFL to postpone all games that weekend — which were eventually rescheduled for the end of the season. As a result, the Steelers opened the stadium on Sunday, Oct. 7 with a 16-7 win against the Cincinnati Bengals.

However, they suffered a disappointing 24-17 loss at home in the AFC Championship Game to the eventual Super Bowl Champion New England Patriots.

After an 0-2 start in 2002, the Steelers rallied to make the playoffs for the second consecutive season. However, the team's Super Bowl hopes ended when they lost 34-31 in overtime to the Tennessee Titans on the road.

The Steelers began the 2003 season with a 34-15 victory against AFC North rival Baltimore Ravens. However, the team never regained that magic and finished the year with a 6-10 record and missed the playoffs for the first time in three seasons.

The Steelers set a team record in 2004 by becoming the first AFC team to win 15 games (15-1) in the regular season. They ultimately advanced to the AFC Championship Game where they lost to the New England Patriots 41-27. Nine Steelers were selected to play in the AFC-NFC Pro Bowl, the team's most since the 1979 season.

Pittsburgh found itself sitting at 7-5 after 12 games in 2005, but rallied to win its final four regular-season games to earn the AFC's sixth seed in the playoffs. The Steelers then won an unprecedented three straight road playoff games to gain a berth in Super Bowl XL in Detroit versus the Seattle Seahawks.

Ward also hauled in a game-clinching 43-yard TD pass from Antwaan Randle El on a gadget play midway through the fourth quarter.

The 2006 season saw the Bill Cowher era come to an end with the Steelers finishing the season winning six of their final eight games to post an 8-8 record on the year.

On January 5, 2007, Bill Cowher resigned as Steelers head coach with a 161-99-1 overall record, second-best in team history.

The Steelers hired 34-year old Mike Tomlin as the team's head coach on January 22, 2007, becoming the NFL's youngest head coach at the time.

Tomlin became the second first-year coach in team history to make the playoffs in 2007. The Steelers finished with a 10-6 overall record and won the AFC North division title.

STEELERS HISTORY

▼ Wide receiver Santonio Holmes was named MVP after hauling in the game-winning six-yard touchdown pass from Ben Roethlisberger with 35 seconds remaining in regulation.

Tomlin became the first coach in franchise history to win a division title in each of his first two seasons when the Steelers captured their second consecutive AFC North division title with a 12-4 record in 2008. They went on to defeat the San Diego Chargers and Baltimore Ravens to gain a berth in Super Bowl XLIII in Tampa, Fla. versus the Arizona Cardinals.

The Steelers became the first NFL franchise to capture six Super Bowl titles when they defeated the Cardinals 27-23. With the victory, Tomlin became the youngest coach to win a Super Bowl in NFL history (36 years, 323 days). Wide receiver Santonio Holmes was named MVP after hauling in the game-winning six-yard touchdown pass from Ben Roethlisberger with 35 seconds remaining in regulation.

The Steelers added to their legacy, making it all the way to Super Bowl XLV after a 12-4 record during the 2010 season. The team could not overcome an early 18-point deficit and fell to the Green Bay Packers 31-25. Despite the loss, the Steelers still are tied for the NFL record for most Super Bowl victories with six (New England Patriots).

Pittsburgh followed up the Super Bowl appearance with another 12-win season in 2011. The Steelers overcame injuries to key players on both sides of the ball to earn their 26th playoff berth since the 1970 AFL-NFL merger. The 12 victories marked only the second time in team history that Pittsburgh recorded back-to-back regular seasons with at least 12 victories (1978-79). The Steelers again showcased one of the league's best defenses, leading the NFL in pass defense and being the only team to register two shutouts. Hines Ward became the eighth player in NFL history to record at least 1,000 receptions and 12,000 receiving yards and Antonio Brown became the first player in NFL history with at least 1,000 receiving yards and 1,000 return yards in the same season.

After back-to-back 8-8 seasons in 2012 and 2013, Pittsburgh returned to the playoffs in 2014. The Steelers finished with an 11-5 record and claimed the AFC North Division Championship, the team's 21st division title since the 1970 AFL-NFL merger, which was tops in the NFL in that span. Pittsburgh had an offensive output for the ages in 2014 as the offense set numerous single-season team records, including total points (436), total net yards (6,577), passing yards per games (301.6), total first downs (379) and individual 100-yard receiving games (12).

The team also donned a CHN commemorative patch in honor of the late Chuck Noll during the 2014 season. The team also retired Joe Greene's No. 75, all during its year of celebrating the team's 40th anniversary of its first championship with a uniform patch in 2014.

On April 13, 2017, the Steelers lost their Hall of Fame owner and Chairman, Ambassador Dan Rooney. The team donned a commemorative patch in honor of the late Mr. Rooney throughout the 2017 season.

The Steelers once again captured the AFC North title in 2017 and finished with a League-best tying 13 victories (13-3) but lost in the divisional round to Jacksonville.

2020s Pittsburgh captured the 2020 AFC North title to mark the team's 24th division title, ninth since 2002 and fourth in the last seven years (2014, 2016, 2017 and 2020). The Steelers earned the division title for the 24th time since the 1970 AFL-NFL merger – the most division crowns by an NFL team in that span.

Since the AFC North was adopted after the restructuring of the 2002 NFL season when the League realigned divisions after expanding to 32 teams, Mike Tomlin has won the division seven times (2007, 2008, 2010, 2014, 2016, 2017 and 2020). No other head coach has won the AFC North more than six times (John Harbaugh). Pittsburgh's nine AFC North titles nearly equal the combined total from the rest of the division since 2002.

THE birth of the towel 1975

Origins of an Icon

During the 1975 playoffs, Steelers radio color commentator Myron Cope sparked fan excitement by urging them to wave gold or yellow towels at the first playoff game. The Terrible Towel debuted on December 27, 1975, during the Steelers' 28-10 AFC Divisional win over Baltimore, setting the stage for their 21-17 Super Bowl X victory over Dallas.

THE legacy continues

"There is only one Terrible Towel for any team in the National Football League. Anyone who is waving any other color, means nothing. It's just one Terrible Towel." – LYNN SWANN

1996

A Charitable Gesture

In 1996, Myron Cope transferred the Terrible Towel trademark to Allegheny Valley School (AVS). Since then, sales royalties have generated millions to support individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities.

Renegade Tradition

In the early 2000s, the Steelers' tradition of playing "Renegade" during games became synonymous with fans waving their Terrible Towels.

2010

In 2010, the "Terrible Towel Twirl" was introduced, with special guests leading the crowd in a ceremonious twirl before kickoff.

Bengals' Curse

T.J. Houshmandzadeh of the Cincinnati Bengals infamously wiped his feet with a Terrible Towel. The Steelers subsequently defeated the Bengals in the playoffs, and the Bengals missed the postseason for the next three years.

After Andrew Wingard and his Jaguars teammates stole Terrible Towels from fans late in a game, the Jaguars went on to lose six of their final nine games, surrendering their playoff spot to the Steelers.

TO PLAY FOR THE STEELERS

Cam Hayward was born to play for the Steelers. At least that's what his mother wanted. She was a Pittsburgh girl—who married the late, great Craig "Ironhead" Hayward of Pro fame. She raised Cam in Atlanta, but always wanted to go back to Pittsburgh.

Cam made that possible when the Steelers drafted him out of Ohio State in the first round of the 2013 NFL Draft.

The Son of Ironhead was greeted with much accolade by the media and fans of the defending AFC champions, but the coaching staff sent Hayward to the back of the line behind Aaron Smith, Casey Hampton, Brett Keisel, and even 2008 first-round pick Ziggy Hood.

Hayward didn't start a game in his first two seasons, and in his first six seasons accumulated only 20 sacks. He wasn't a punt try any stretch, but the style the Steelers played about Hayward and the defensive ends to "two gap," or wait offensive linemen up in order for linebackers to make plays.

That changed in 2017 when the Steelers moved to a more blitzing style with their defensive corners, and Hayward stepped in with 22 sacks. Then the media began writing in:

Over the last eight seasons, Hayward has been to all seven of his Pro Bowls, been named first-team All-Pro four times, and second-team All-Pro once.

Going into last Sunday night's game against the Chargers, Hayward had 50 career sacks, second in franchise history to T.J. Watt's 113.

Hayward enters today's game against the Bengals having played in 225 career games, tied with Mike Webster for second most in franchise history behind Rex Buathaupt (249).

"I've been surrounded by some of the best coaches, players, and teammates you could ask for."

No, the Son of Ironhead hasn't done too badly for himself. When asked to formulate career accomplishments, though, the entirety of his 35 years in Pittsburgh seemed to overwhelm him, "In the midst of everything," Hayward said, "I kind of just want to dedicate everything I have to the time I have left, whether it's one year, two years, or three years. I want to make sure I got everything I can take from."

"Just enjoying the ride. Not thinking about what the ride will be. I just try to stay in the present."

Hayward agreed to play along with an old journalism staple of asking with the who, what, where, when, and why. Here's how he responded:

WHO

Who plays into your mind as you look back at your career?

"Whether it's John Mitchell, to Ben Denson, to Brett Keisel, to Aaron Smith, to Casey Hampton, to Stephen Tuitt, to Jovan Hughes, I've been surrounded by some of the best coaches, players, and teammates you could ask for...and that's just in my room."

"I've always been a guy who learns from others. I try to add that to my game. And I don't want to let others down. I've always tried to be every part of this team, or every part of everything. I've been a part of, and understand the responsibility that's with me."

WHAT

What have you learned from somebody, anybody that's helped you grow?

"The first thing I've ever learned is that you from my room years ago. It's always been our mission: Fabrizio is a veteran, and I received a lot of guidance when I got to this league. John Mitchell, when I first got drafted, said to me, 'I've got my starters, but I'm going to have to rest and get on special teams.' That kind of was humbling. But I needed it, and I think it made me a better player because of that.

"Learning from Brett Keisel and Casey about how to play with technique. It doesn't matter if you just make the play, but being in the right position, being accountable, is the true challenge."

"And learning from Coach Butler years later, because I had such a good foundation of being accountable and being in my gap. He kind of tipped it, as it's hard and wild. It's not just enough to be in your gap anymore. You know the picture and you know what's going on around you, now you can take those risks a little bit more, now you can go out there and be a little bit freer."

"When I've been around a lot of the younger guys in my crew, whether it was Jason Hargrave or Stephen Taitt, there was just a level of competitiveness I just appreciated. We were all so hungry and we all just wanted to be a part of a good defense."

"It's been really fun to add Ben T. Taitt over this time. We kind of push each other. We talk openly about game plans, about what we want to do. We talk about our families, talk about having kids. We've kind of grown up together. It's that's what's really stood out to me."

WHERE

Where is your favorite spot?

"My home. It's been my safe place. It's been somewhere that in the quiet moments where I've focused the most, and I've cried the most, because I wanted to be out there so bad. Sometimes I'd be in my car going to games and knowing you're not going to play kind of broke my heart, because I wanted to be a part of this for so long."

"Over my 22 years, I don't forget those moments. I still take the same route in. I feel a lot of people at my house who really just settled into doing and kept my faith going. My wife, my kids, my mom always coming up, my brothers. It's a spot where I still truly just be myself."

WHEN

Which time will you remember most fondly?

"There are so many moments. It's hard to say when. I guess I don't know. What is memorable because I'm going through this. I'm still trying to make those moments. So it's hard to say there's one moment that sticks out right now. I guess that goes with what I said about being in the present moment."

WHY

Do you feel like you've fulfilled your purpose? And why?

"I think God's purpose was to bring me back to Pittsburgh. It was marrying my wife, who I met my first year, my first day in the dorms at Ohio State. When I first got drafted here, I always thought that God and my dad were working together to bring me back home."

"When I first got drafted here, I always thought that God and my dad were working together to bring me back home."

"But how I fulfilled my purpose? I hope not. I've never comforted with that. I feel like I'm not satisfied. I feel there's still lighter parts to be played. There are still questions for me to be answered. I feel like I have a lot more in the tank to build just keep answering those questions."

"WE KIND OF PUSH EACH OTHER"

CAMERON WILKINS ON T.J. WATT

OTHER VOICES

Speeder Anderson

"During practice, we obviously went out protection calls toward T.J., just because it's T.J., so it leaves me one-on-one with Cam, which is smart of our defense. You put those on separate sides, so you help one side and obviously there's no help on the other. So, whenever we're in practice and you're kind of wanting protection that week, I'm like, 'All right, well, let me tighten my seat rocks and buckle my stuff up, because here comes Cam.' Obviously, it's good to get a giant guy like that in practice, because it makes the game a much easier."

"He's definitely a hard worker. I train with him in the offseason out here. I stay out, like you [said], and so I talk with him and a couple other guys, and he's just a hard worker. Also, he's always joking around, but when it's time to be serious he's real serious. Obviously, he's a captain for a reason, and he's been doing it for a while."

Connor Heyward

"It's very humbling that we're both at this level, but also extremely cool thing able to see the side of him that no one else in our family really gets to see. They don't get to be here in the locker room. They don't get to see how he is when we win, or how he is when we lose. After a game he might call me and they might not really know why, but I might know why he's mad and the reason. So I feel like being here and being able to get that insight can be so cool."

"Also, obviously, everybody would love to play with their brother, so it's a blessing as well. He's somebody that I can look up to and somebody that everybody else can look up to as well."

"When's everybody at?" I was the only one there. So then he started me a couple nights ago. It said there was something on Monday night, and I said, "Is this going to be like the last one?" His response from the group that

"He's somebody that I can look up to and somebody that everybody else can look up to as well."

—CONNOR HEYWARD

Keeanu Benton

"Playing with him is one thing, but what he teaches you is something extremely valuable. Yeah, he's a good guy and a great leader, a guy who's going to teach you and teach you what he knows in. He taught me how to take care of my body when I first got here, and just continue to do those things and teach me how to do this job as a pro. For sure."

Aaron Rodgers

"Cam invited me to a movie right a while back and said it was a big treat function. I love team bonding, chemistry stuff. So I showed up. I see him and his son, Col, who will go to school during training camp, his wife. 'Oh, cool.' I'm looking around, I go,

"But I really appreciate his leadership. You know, he's a guy who knows how to use his voice at the right times, and he's played been steady. He's made some plays where he's running the back side of balls being out in the field that are really impressive. He's pushed the pocket in the middle. He's got five picks on a lot of footballs that have been kind of game-changing plays for us. But he's a steady guy. I like to run him from time to time, because I'm a little more maybe chippy in the mornings than he is, but I'm really fortunate to play with Cam Heyward."

MIKE TOMLIN

Mike Tomlin was named the NFL's head coach in Pittsburgh's SteelCity on January 22, 2007, listed at the age of 34. Tomlin became only the third head coach hired by the Steelers since 1960.

In his 10 seasons as head coach for the Pittsburgh Steelers, Tomlin has accomplished many things that have never been done by the team's recent history. A Steelers fanbase for stability at the head coaching position, Tomlin ranks among the League's longest-tenured active head coaches entering the 2025 season.

Tomlin became the youngest head coach in NFL history to both coach in and win a Super Bowl when he led the Steelers to a 27-23 victory over the Arizona Cardinals in Super Bowl XLIII (28 years, 323 days), a record that held for 67 years, followed by 36 as McVay in Super Bowl LV (34 years, 28 days). By winning the Super Bowl in only his second season as a head coach, he also became the third to win a Super Bowl Year in Steelers history.

During his head coaching tenure in Pittsburgh, Tomlin has led the Steelers to seven AFC North titles, most recently in 2020, and has guided the Steelers to the playoffs 12 times, including two trips to the Super Bowl (XLIII and XLV). Tomlin has won at least five home games in 11 of the first 16 years, including six in 2021. In his 10 seasons, he has never had a losing record.

Tomlin is the only head coach in League history to begin a head coaching tenure with at least 16 consecutive winning seasons. He has won 61 Steelers as a 300+ career record, a club of his 18 seasons as head coach. That is the Pittsburgh Steelers' 600+ career wins by a head coach in NFL history.

Tomlin has led a staff of 82 assistants to the NFL's January Free Agent, including the first playoff win against the Cleveland Browns in the 2024 season. Additionally, Tomlin was named by Sports Illustrated as the NFL's Campbell Award Coach for March 2023.

Tomlin is just the eighth coach in NFL history to win a Super Bowl within the first two seasons as head coach. He is the only head coach in Steelers history to lead the team to two Super Bowls in his first four seasons of the team, including an appearance against the Green Bay Packers in Super Bowl XLV. He is one of only two Steelers head coaches to win three division titles in his first four seasons.

Tomlin has led Pittsburgh to a 200-111-2 record in the regular season, a first becoming the team's first coach in 2007—his second-best record in the NFL, during that time span, behind only Andy Reid (169-111-2 regular-season record) (1978) in the last part of the franchise history.

Tomlin's 188 regular-season victories are the second-most among active NFL head coaches and trail only the 220-win mark of Les Miles (2006-2015). Tomlin's 200 regular-season win percentage is the sixth-highest in NFL history (minimum 100 games).

Tomlin's 188 regular-season wins put him on the second-most in a coach's first 28 career seasons. He is 628 regular-season win percentage is the fifth-best in a head coach's first 28 career seasons.

Tomlin, who took over in NFL history with a regular-season record of 78 games over 150, Bill Belichick, Andy Reid, and Matt Schaub (all with one win) are the only coaches in NFL history with career records of 70 or more games over 300 wins in the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

Tomlin is one of two active NFL head coaches with over 180 victories and one of four active NFL head coaches to defeat at least 33 current NFL franchises.

2015 victory at Washington in Week 10 of 2014, Tomlin became the sixth head coach in NFL history to reach 188 career wins. He registered 240 wins in 283 games coached, which was the fifth-most games coached in League history to reach the milestone.

Tomlin led the Steelers to another 10-win season in 2024, the 11th time Pittsburgh has reached double-digit wins during his tenure. The Steelers played seven regular-season games in 2024 playoff teams. Pittsburgh's seven regular-season games played in 2024 played five wins and five for the fourth time in the NFL. The Steelers are victorious vs. opponents that finished 2023 with a winning record over the 10th-most in the NFL.

Tomlin led the Steelers to another 10-win season in 2023, the 10th time Pittsburgh has reached double-digit wins during his tenure. The Steelers played eight regular-season games in 2023 playoff teams, including both Super Bowl and first in the east. Pittsburgh's eight regular-season games played in 2023 played five wins and five for the eighth-most in the NFL. Five.

Tomlin is the League's first qualified for the playoffs played at least eight games in 2023 playoff teams and only Baltimore played more playoff games and reached the postseason. The Steelers' first regular-season wins in 2023 played five wins and five for the third-most in the NFL this season.

Tomlin's young 2022 team received momentum over the course of the season, commencing in Tomlin's 200th career season at 300 or above with a record of 9-8. The Steelers started the season at 2-6 before their Week 9 loss, and won 7-2 the rest of the way. Pittsburgh's offense finished the first three drives on average and the first three rushing yards in the League from Week 10 through 20 after starting the season behind 24th in offense. Defensively, Pittsburgh improved from 20th in opponent yards per game to the strongest defense in the League over the second half of the season, allowing an NFL and 27.3 yards per game following their bye week. The Steelers defense also improved in going off the field over the 10th most yards, allowing the third-highest third-down conversion (38) and long (for the backcountry interception 112). The team's 23 interceptions of the season tied for the most in the League.

Tomlin is one of four active NFL head coaches with over 180 victories.

MILWAUKEE 2022-23

The Steelers selected four players to serve as team captains for the 2025 season through a vote of their teammates.

PERSONALITY: This is what Jones did May 15, 2002, in the past. "I'm a second-degree bachelor's degree in communication studies from Ball State in 2004. I've got a wife, Sarah, four kids [Tiana—Hawkins, Luke, Emma (1998) and Milo; Sarah (2001) is the daughter of former Green Bay Packers and Texas A&M head coach Raytheon Bush. Jones, Taylor's youngest, died in a helicopter crash last September at 44] and a 12-year-old son, Chase (born in 1991). I've got a brother, Tim, and a sister, Sarah. Taylor's brother Tim, played football at Winston, just recently in the past year (served in the US Marine Corps).

The Pittsburgh Steelers Hall of Honor, established with its inaugural class of 27 members in 2017, is comprised of former players, coaches and front office personnel who were integral in creating and sustaining the franchise's success dating back to when the team was founded in 1933.

Each Hall of Honor inductee received a replica of the steel steel football that was given to Steelers founder Art Rooney Sr. by the United States Steel Corporation and United Steel Workers in 1992 to commemorate the team's 50th season. The footballs are on display in the Steelers Hall of Honor Museum located in Acrisure Stadium, which provides opportunities for fans to learn more about the franchise, view rare artifacts preserved by the team, and relive the biggest moments and people in Steelers history.

After losing to the Steelers in 2012, the Steelers returned to the playoffs in 2014. The Steelers' season was a 13-5 record and earned the AFC North Division Championship, the team's 21st division title since the 1979 AFL AFL merger, which was back in the NFL. In that year, Pittsburgh had an offensive output in the playoffs in 2014 as the offense set numerous single-season team records, including total yards (405), total net yards (457), passing yards per game (302.6), total first downs (376) and total touchdowns (16) in the playoffs (12).

The team also won a 7th consecutive playoff berth in the last Chuck Noll during the 2014 season. The team also won the Joe Greene No. 15, all during its year of celebrating the team's 40th anniversary of its first championship with a uniform patch in 2014.

Pittsburgh captured the divisional round of the playoffs in 2015. The Steelers and 10-6, captured the AFC North championship. Cincinnati is the AFC North record of the playoffs and led in several Super Bowl championship games (29-18).

In 2016, Pittsburgh captured a season game winning streak, finishing with an 11-5 record and captured the AFC North Title. The Steelers captured their 26th AFC Championship game but lost to New England, 38-17. Pittsburgh's 18 consecutive championship game appearances, 22 division titles, 28 playoff berths and 36 postseason wins were the most at the time since the AFL-AFL merger in 1970.

On Nov. 13, 2017, the Steelers lost their title of Farm owner and Chairman, Ambassador Dan Rooney. The team donated a commemorative patch in honor of the late Dan Rooney throughout the 2017 season.

The Steelers were again captured the AFC North title in 2017 and finished with a 10-7 record (13-3) but lost in the divisional round to Jacksonville.

The Steelers started the division title for the 24th time since the 1979 AFL-AFL merger - the most division titles by an NFL team in that span.

Since the AFC North was selected after the restructuring of the 2002 NFL season with the league realignment division is also expanding to 32 teams. Since then, the division has been since 2017, 2018, 2019, 2020, 2021, 2022, 2023, 2024, 2025, 2026 and 2027. The only team that has won the AFC North more than six times is Pittsburgh. Pittsburgh's nine AFC North titles include the 1979-80 title from the start of the division since 2002.

THE birth of the towel 1975

Origins of an Icon

During the 1975 playoffs, Steelers wide receiver Myron Cope was told by coachhead Bud Sullivan to wrap them in steel wool or yellow towels. At the first playoff game, The Terrible Towel debuted on December 27, 1975, during the Steelers' 28-17 AFC title game win over the Oakland Raiders. The towel hit the mainstream during the 1976 AFC Championship game, when it was used to celebrate the team's victory over the Dallas Cowboys.
